FIELD ARTILLERY IS NOT ADEQUATE

Declares the Secretary of War in His First Annual Report to Federal Congress.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 10.—Secretary Garrison's first annual report to the President, as head of the War Department, makes no recommendation for the generally expected re-arrangement of army posts to distribute troops in mobile units. The secretary says that other things of immediate importance, "particularly an adequate supply of field artillery," will postpone his recommendations to Congress, but in the meantime the troops will be garrisoned in as practical a manner for mobilization as is possible.

Mr. Garrison discusses the militia at some length. He says in part:

"The national importance of reserve system for the organized militia cannot be questioned. The minimum strength at which militia organizations are maintained in time of peace will render necessary a great and immediate increase in a national emergency, and this fact demands the presence of a system of reserves from which trained men may be secured for this increase. Without some such system, not only will such increase be rendered exceedingly difficult, but even when accomplished the efficiency of the organizations will have been reduced to a minimum by the introduction of an untrained element double in number the trained personnel."

"Proper organization as required by the law is absolutely necessary if the organized militia is to be counted on as a dependable military federal asset in time of national need, and the organizations existing as such in name only will be required to complete their component elements or lose federal recognition of their character as such organizations."

"While there has been a small decrease in officers and enlisted men in the organized militia during the past year, this decrease has occurred, in great part, as the result of the elimination of organizations found hopelessly inefficient and is compensated for by an increase in general efficiency. It is regretted that in target practice the reports show but slight progress during the year. This fact is the most serious as rifle practice is recognized as one of the most vital elements in the training of the infantry soldier. The present tendency to develop rifle teams, composed mostly of commissioned officers, at the expense of target practice for the enlisted man is opposed to the federal policy in this matter and should be discontinued."

Discussing the army reserve the secretary says:

"The adjutant general reports that approximately 21,000 men enlisted in the army between November 1, 1912, and August 31, 1913, and of this number 61 made applications to be surrounded to the reserve at the expiration of three years' service, and that on the date last named the reserve consisted of eight men.

"I found from a personal trip to most of the army posts and from interviewing as many of the officers and men as I could that the men were dissatisfied with the present enlistment contract."

RED CROSS

Seals Are Placed on the Market in the Postoffice Corridor Here.

Sale of 40,000 Red Cross seals from this time to Christmas is the motto of members of the Woman's Civic Club assisted by a number of other charitable women of the city. The sale began this morning and will continue daily until Christmas, excepting Sundays. A post is established in the corridor of the postoffice, where Mrs. John Ruhl and Mrs. H. E. Travis began the initial sales. The post is to be open until 6 o'clock every evening, and the sellers will work in relays.

Red Cross seals are also on sale at various stores. The number sold last year was 22,000 and it is the hope as stated to double the aggregate amount of sales this year.

ROBBERY CHARGE

Is Made against Youth, Who is Held in Jail—Another Succeeds in Escaping.

A youth, whose name has not been given, was arrested last night by Police Officer Post on a charge of robbing the safe in Jack Hickman's saloon on Pike street. Harry McCune, another boy, alleged to have been connected with the robbery, made his escape and is thought to have gone to Fairmont and the officers at that place were notified to be on the lookout for him.

It is alleged that the youth, who is held in jail, was in the employ of Hickman and had access to the safe. The amount of money stolen was not learned.

TO CONFER DEGREES.

For the purpose of conferring degrees, an afternoon and night meeting of Clarksburg Commandery No. 13, Knights Templars, will be held Friday in the Masonic temple. It will start at 4 o'clock and continue with an intermission for the supper hour until 9 o'clock when a buffet lunch will be served.

FIVE DRUNKS.

There were five drunks before Mayor Will H. Cole in police court this morning. Two of the offenders contributed fines and the remaining three, being financially unable to do so, were allowed to go with warnings as to a future offense.

NEW THEATER.

The Third street theater is nearing completion. The work on it is progressing nicely. Marble setters are setting the marble and laying the tile in the handsome lobby and the interior of the room is being lavishly decorated by the A. Haurbrick Company. It will be a very beautiful and artistic show house. O. K. Boram, who formerly managed the Glen Elk theater, will manage the new theater.

About forty-two thousand persons are engaged in the manufacture of musical instruments in this country.
